Index to Volume 23

1 is the Summer 1997 issue
2 is the Autumn 1997 issue
3 is the Winter 1997 issue
4 is the Spring 1998 issue

AUTHORS

Bauserman, Judy C., Designing Vacation Programs That Comply with State Law Restrictions (Employee Benefits), No. 4, 153-162

Bauserman, Judy C., and Rutherford, Elizebeth A., Adoption Assistance: Worth a Second Look? (Employee Benefits), No. 3, 141-148

Bro, Ruth Hill, and Spognardi, Mark A., Organizing Through Cyberspace: Electronic Communications and the National Labor Relations Act (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 4, 141-151

Broudy, Ronald M., and McDonald, James J., Jr., Job Stress and the ADA, No. 3, 67-81

Burns, James A., Jr., Accommodating Pregnant Employees (Review of the Literature), No. 1, 139-144

Burns, James A., Jr., Employment References: Is There a Better Way? (Review of the Literature), No. 2, 157-168

Burns, James A., Jr., Personal Relationships of Employees: Are They Any Business of an Employer? (Review of the Literature), No. 4, 171-177

Burns, James A., Jr., Should the ADA Cover "Voluntary" Disabilities? (Review of the Literature), No. 3, 155-161

Canoni, John D., Supreme Court Revises the Salary Basis Test for Exempt Employees, No. 2, 105-113

Copus, David A., and Towns, Douglas M., OFCCP's Compensation Analysis: A Critique of DuBray's Approach, No. 2, 45-68

Dabertin, Mark T., and Jenero, Kenneth A., D.C. Circuit Agrees with EEOC: Receipt of Disability Benefits No Bar to ADA Claims (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 3, 131-139

Dabertin, Mark T., and Jenero, Kenneth A., Validity of FMLA Regulatory Notice Requirements for Employers Challenged in Federal Courts (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 2, 115-128

Fentonmiller, Keith R., Getting Beyond Mendacity: The Erosion of the "Falsity" Approach to Proving Discriminatory Intent, No. 4, 13-39

Fentonmiller, Keith R., When Does Retaliation Count under Title VII?, No. 2, 31-44

Govan, Reginald C., and Kandel, William L., Employment Law in a Fishbowl: Coping with Less Privilege and Confidentiality (Employment Litigation), No. 3, 111-129

Haddad, Yvonne R., and Mishkind, Charles S., Class Action Litigation: Communicating with the Public and Class Members, No. 3, 83-96

Hoekstra, David John, Robinson v. Shell Oil Company—Has the Supreme Court Expanded Employers' Title VII Liability?, No. 1, 83-92

Jenero, Kenneth A., Supreme Court Rules All Employees Count Toward Title VII Threshold (Labor and Employee Relations Extra), No. 2, 129-132

Jenero, Kenneth A., and Dabertin, Mark T., D.C. Circuit Agrees with EEOC: Receipt of Disability Benefits No Bar to ADA Claims (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 3, 131-139

Jenero, Kenneth A., and Dabertin, Mark T., Validity of FMLA Regulatory Notice Requirements for Employers Challenged in Federal Courts (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 2, 115-128

Jenero, Kenneth A., and Schreiber, Phillip M., Drafting Effective Inde-

© 1998 Aspen Law & Business

pendent Contractor Agreements, No. 4, 127-139
Kandel, William L., and Govan, Reginald C., Employment Law in a Fishbowl: Coping with Less Privilege and Confidentiality (Employment Litigation), No. 3, 111-129
Kershaw, Anne E., and Pernini, David M., Geressy v. Digital—Using Statistical Analysis To Curb Excessive Jury Awards, No. 3, 55-65
Kilberg, William J., Auer v. Robbins Part II: The Continued Need for Legislative Reform (From the Editor), No. 1, 1-4
Kilberg, William J., Board and Bar: A Return to Cordiality? (From the Editor), No. 4, 1-3
Kilberg, William J., Board of Education of Piscataway v. Taxman: A Time To Decide (From the Editor), No. 3, 1-4
Kilberg, William J., Whither Goest the EEOC? (From the Editor), No. 2, 1-4
Kneisel, Edmund M., and Silver, Joseph G., The EEOC Uses Negotiated Rulemaking for Proposed Waiver Regulations under the OWBPA, No. 4, 41-66
Lees-Haley, Paul R., and McDonald, James J., Jr., The Use (and Misuse) of Psychological Testing in Employment Litigation, No. 1, 37-53
LoBue, Joseph J., and Yager, Daniel V., Is the Chevron Deference Standard Too High-Octane for the NLRB?, No. 4, 67-101
Marshall, Alison B., Title IX and Gender Discrimination in Athletics (Employment Litigation), No. 1, 93-103
McDonald, James J., Jr., and Broudy, Ronald M., Job Stress and the ADA, No. 3, 67-81
McDonald, James J., Jr., and Lees-Haley, Paul R., The Use (and Misuse) of Psychological Testing in Employment Litigation, No. 1, 37-53
McDonald, James J., Jr., and Rosman, Jonathan P., EEOC Guidance on Psychiatric Disabilities: Many Problems, Few Workable Solutions, No. 2, 5-29
Mishkind, Charles S., and Haddad, Yvonne R., Class Action Litigation: Communicating with the Public and Class Members, No. 3, 83-96
Mook, Jonathan R., Can Title III of the ADA Be Used To Challenge Disability Plan Limitations?, No. 4, 103-125
Pernini, David M., and Kershaw, Anne E., Geressy v. Digital—Using Statistical Analysis To Curb Excessive Jury Awards, No. 3, 55-65
Rosman, Jonathan P., and McDonald, James J., Jr., EEOC Guidance on Psychiatric Disabilities: Many Problems, Few Workable Solutions, No. 2, 5-29
Rutherford, Elizebeth A., Domestic Partner Benefits: Are You Doing It Right? (Employee Benefits), No. 1, 125-132
Rutherford, Elizebeth A., and Bauserman, Judy C., Adoption Assistance: Worth a Second Look? (Employee Benefits), No. 3, 141-148
Sand, Robert H., Mass Tort Litigation: Can the Supreme Court Stem the Tide? (Safety and Health), No. 3, 149-154
Sand, Robert H., Repetitive Stress Injuries: Will the Focus Shift from the Agencies to the Courts? (Safety and Health), No. 1, 133-138
Sapper, Arthur G., and Yohay, Stephen C., OSHA Liability of "Controlling" Employers—Time for Reexamination (Safety and Health), No. 4, 163-170
Schreiber, Phillip M., and Jenero, Kenneth A., Drafting Effective Independent Contractor Agreements, No. 4, 127-139
Silver, Joseph G., and Kneisel, Edmund M., The EEOC Uses Negotiated Rulemaking for Proposed Waiver Regulations under the OWBPA, No. 4, 41-66
Simon, Howard A., The Investigation on Trial: California Moves Toward a "Good-Faith Belief" Standard in Termination Decisions, No. 1, 55-81
Spognardi, Mark A., Conducting a Human Resources Audit: A Primer (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 1, 105-123
Spognardi, Mark A., and Bro, Ruth Hill, Organizing Through Cyberspace: Electronic Communications and the National Labor Relations Act (Labor and Employee Relations), No. 4, 141-151
Stewart, C. Gregory, Kilberg Wrong About EEOC, No. 4, 5-12
Sudbury, Deborah A., and Towns, Douglas M., Traps for the Unwary:

Employment Law Implications of Telecommuting, No. 3, 5-29
Tomkowicz, Sandra M., Beyond a Reasonable Accommodation: Hostile Work Environment Claims under the ADA, No. 3, 97-109
Towns, Douglas M., and Copus, David A., OFCCP's Compensation Analysis: A Critique of DuBray's Approach, No. 2, 45-68
Towns, Douglas M., and Sudbury, Deborah A., Traps for the Unwary: Employment Law Implications of Telecommuting, No. 3, 5-29
Weiser, Carol A., HIPAA Certification Requirements (Employee Benefits), No. 2, 133-150
Winterbauer, Steven H., The Direct Threat Defense: Striking a Balance Between the Duties To Accommodate and To Provide a Safe Workplace, No. 1, 5-35
Winterbauer, Steven H., Multiple Chemical Sensitivity and the ADA: Taking a Clear Picture of a Blurry Object, No. 2, 69-104
Wit, Adam C., The "Similarly Situated Individual": Evidence of Comparable Employees and Its Application in Employment Discrimination Litigation, No. 3, 31-53
Yager, Daniel V., and LoBue, Joseph J., Is the Chevron Deference Standard Too High-Octane for the NLRB?, No. 4, 67-101
Yohay, Stephen C., Since When Did an OSHA Inspection Become a Stakeout? (Safety and Health), No. 2, 151-156
Yohay, Stephen C., and Sapper, Arthur G., OSHA Liability of "Controlling" Employers—Time for Reexamination (Safety and Health), No. 4, 163-170

TITLE/SUBJECT

ADA, Beyond a Reasonable Accommodation: Hostile Work Environment Claims under the, Sandra M. Tomkowicz, No. 3, 97-109
ADA, Can Title III of the, Be Used To Challenge Disability Plan Limitations?, Jonathan R. Mook, No. 4, 103-125
ADA, D.C. Circuit Agrees with EEOC: Receipt of Disability Benefits No Bar to, Claims (Labor and Employee Relations), Kenneth A. Jenero and Mark T. Dabertin, No. 3, 131-139
ADA, Job Stress and the, James J. McDonald Jr. and Ronald M. Broudy, No. 3, 67-81
ADA, Multiple Chemical Sensitivity and the: Taking a Clear Picture of a Blurry Object, Steven H. Winterbauer, No. 2, 69-104
ADA, Should the, Cover "Voluntary" Disabilities? (Review of the Literature), James A. Burns, Jr., No. 3, 155-161
ADOPTION ASSISTANCE: Worth a Second Look? (Employee Benefits), Elizebeth A. Rutherford and Judy C. Bauserman, No. 3, 141-148
Auer v. Robbins Part II: The Continued Need for Legislative Reform (From the Editor), William J. Kilberg, No. 1, 1-4
BOARD AND BAR: A Return to Cordiality? (From the Editor), William J. Kilberg, No. 4, 1-3
Board of Education of Piscataway v. Taxman: A Time To Decide (From the Editor), William J. Kilberg, No. 3, 1-4
Chevron DEFERENCE STANDARD, Is the, Too High-Octane for the NLRB?, Daniel V. Yager and Joseph J. LoBue, No. 4, 67-101
CLASS ACTION LITIGATION: Communicating with the Public and Class Members, Charles S. Mishkind and Yvonne R. Haddad, No. 3, 83-96
DISCRIMINATORY INTENT, Getting Beyond Mendacity: The Erosion of the "Falsity" Approach to Proving, Keith R. Fentonmiller, No. 4, 13-39
DOMESTIC PARTNER BENEFITS: Are You Doing It Right? (Employee Benefits), Elizebeth A. Rutherford, No. 1, 125-132
EEOC, Kilberg Wrong About, C. Gregory Stewart, No. 4, 5-12
EEOC, Whither Goest the? (From the Editor), William J. Kilberg, No. 2, 1-4
EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION LITIGATION, The "Similarly Situated Individual": Evidence of Comparable Employees and Its Application in, Adam C. Wit, No. 3, 31-53
EMPLOYMENT LAW in a Fishbowl: Coping with Less Privilege and Confidentiality (Employment Litigation), William L. Kandel and Reginald C. Govan, No. 3, 111-129

EMPLOYMENT REFERENCES: Is There a Better Way? (Review of the Literature), James A. Burns, Jr., No. 2, 157-168
EXEMPT EMPLOYEES, Supreme Court Revises the Salary Basis Test for, John D. Canoni, No. 2, 105-113
FMLA REGULATORY NOTICE REQUIREMENTS, Validity of, for Employers Challenged in Federal Courts (Labor and Employee Relations), Kenneth A. Jenero and Mark T. Dabertin, No. 2, 115-128
GENDER DISCRIMINATION, in Athletics, Title IX and (Employment Litigation), Alison B. Marshall, No. 1, 93-103
HIPAA CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS (Employee Benefits), Carol A. Weiser, No. 2, 133-150
HUMAN RESOURCES AUDIT, Conducting a: A Primer (Labor and Employee Relations), Mark A. Spognardi, No. 1, 105-123
INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR AGREEMENTS, Drafting Effective, Kenneth A. Jenero and Phillip M. Schreiber, No. 4, 127-139
JURY AWARDS, Excessive, Geressy v. Digital—Using Statistical Analysis To Curb, Anne E. Kershaw and David M. Pernini, No. 3, 55-65
MASS TORT LITIGATION: Can the Supreme Court Stem the Tide? (Safety and Health), Robert H. Sand, No. 3, 149-154
NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS ACT, Organizing Through Cyberspace: Electronic Communications and the (Labor and Employee Relations), Mark A. Spognardi and Ruth Hill Bro, No. 4, 141-151
OFCCP'S COMPENSATION ANALYSIS: A Critique of DuBray's Approach, David A. Copus and Douglas M. Towns, No. 2, 45-68
OSHA INSPECTION, Since When Did an, Become a Stakeout? (Safety and Health), Stephen C. Yohay, No. 2, 151-156
OSHA LIABILITY of "Controlling" Employers—Time for Reexamination (Safety and Health), Stephen C. Yohay and Arthur G. Sapper, No. 4, 163-170
OWBPA, The EEOC Uses Negotiated Rulemaking for Proposed Waiver Regulations under the, Edmund M. Kneisel and Joseph G. Silver, No. 4, 41-66
PERSONAL RELATIONSHIPS of Employees: Are They Any Business of an Employer? (Review of the Literature), James A. Burns, Jr., No. 4, -171-177
PREGNANT EMPLOYEES, Accommodating (Review of the Literature), James A. Burns, Jr., No. 1, 139-144
PSYCHIATRIC DISABILITIES, EEOC Guidance on: Many Problems, Few Workable Solutions, James J. McDonald, Jr., and Jonathan P. Rosman, No. 2, 5-29
PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING, The Use (and Misuse) of, in Employment Litigation, Paul R. Lees-Haley and James J. McDonald, Jr., No. 1, 37-53
REPETITIVE STRESS INJURIES: Will the Focus Shift from the Agencies to the Courts? (Safety and Health), Robert H. Sand, No. 1, 133-138
RETALIATION, When Does, Count under Title VII?, Keith R. Fentonmiller, No. 2, 31-44
SAFE WORKPLACE, The Direct Threat Defense: Striking a Balance Between the Duties To Accommodate and To Provide a, Steven H. Winterbauer, No. 1, 5-35
TELECOMMUTING, Traps for the Unwary: Employment Law Implications of, Deborah A. Sudbury and Douglas M. Towns, No. 3, 5-29
TERMINATION DECISIONS, The Investigation on Trial: California Moves Toward a "Good-Faith Belief" Standard in, Howard A. Simon, No. 1, 55-81
TITLE VII LIABILITY, Robinson v. Shell Oil Company—Has the Supreme Court Expanded Employers', David John Hoekstra, No. 1, 83-92
TITLE VII THRESHOLD, Supreme Court Rules All Employees Count Toward (Labor and Employee Relations Extra), Kenneth A. Jenero, No. 2, 129-132
VACATION PROGRAMS, Designing, That Comply with State Law Restrictions (Employee Benefits), Judy C. Bauserman, No. 4, 153-162